

Internal Automation Formalizes Fixed-Price Fusion Workshop

The paid discovery stage produces a ranked automation roadmap and a firm build quote, which clients keep whether or not they proceed.

KAILUA-KONA, HI · JUNE 18, 2026 · Internal Automation today formalized the Fusion Workshop, a fixed-price discovery engagement that precedes any build work. The session brings client operators and Internal Automation engineers into a single working day and ends with a ranked deployment roadmap and a firm quote for the first workflow.

The workshop is contracted separately from the build. Clients retain the roadmap and the quote regardless of whether they proceed, and the firm publishes the workshop price before the engagement begins.

The structure is intended to address a common failure mode in enterprise AI programs, in which pilot projects consume budget without reaching production.
